

Low Fidelity Cart Prototype

Prototype Screen:

This low-fidelity page displays the proposed cart page for this website. It clearly indicates to the user which rolls they have in their cart, and the quantities of those rolls. It displays the total with a large checkout button to clearly show the user how to finalize their purchase. The user is also prompted with the option to continue shopping in the case that they want to add more items to their cart. This design aims to give the user the most freedom and control by showing all information and available options in a direct manner to the user.
